

KNEX Point of Sale

KNEX Point of Sale is a purpose-built solution created in close partnership with the wholesale distribution community to reflect how branch teams work, leveraging embedded agentic AI to elevate everyday counter sales. It brings the familiar, relationship-driven feel of front-counter sales into a modern, intuitive digital experience. It recreates the feel of walking into a branch where the sales team knows your name, your order history, and exactly how you like to work. It streamlines the entire order-to-invoice journey while keeping the experience fast, friendly, and familiar.
